The WINSLOW RescueRaft is an extremely lightweight safety survival product with minimal pack size.

While not intended to be a LifeRaft, for the pilot who requires absolute minimal weight and the smallest dimensional pack available, the RescueRaft provides the basic means of getting survivors off the downed aircraft and keeping them out of the water to prevent hypothermia and drowning while for waiting Search and Rescue to arrive.

Some standard features include the primary boarding station, water activated exterior survivor locator light, auto deploying conical drogue and one inch lifelines.
